

Gandhi Exhibition in West Germany

Peter Ruhe and his colleagues have been organising a very successful Gandhi Exhibition in West Berlin. A private enterprise, inspired by Peter's visit to India two years ago, the exhibition has drawn much attention. A smaller exhibition which could be taken around West Germany has also been organized. What these young men ultimately hope to build up is a Gandhi Information Centre, with a Gandhi Museum and Library. It is on this mission that Peter and the Assistant Director, Christian, have come to India again. Arriving early in March, they plan to visit different Gandhi museum libraries, and bookstores in the country to collect material for their centre. They also plan to visit a few constructive work centres as well as join an Austrian T.V. team which is making a film on Meera Behn.
